NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

With the end of the Little League season fast approaching we would like to express our appreciation to all of the people who have devoted so much of their time to the young boys of Hamlin. This also applies to the men working with the newly organized teams in the older age groups.

It takes a surprisingly large group of adults to make a program of this size work. And most of these men and women have devoted a considerable amount of time to the effort.

We would also like to express our thanks, and the thanks of the Little League officials, to the many sponsoring merchants who have helped pay the bills this year.

But while we are on the subject of Little League, we can not help but wonder where all of the fans have been this summer. It would appear that not many parents take the time to support their kids by attending the games.

The crowds seem smaller this year than any year that we can remember. Daylight Savings Time may be part of the trouble but really we suspect that many just don't care or else they stay away in fear that someone might ask them to help out in some way or another.

It may be surprising to know that while food prices keep going up they are still lower than any other segment of our economy.

Dr. Wm. E. Black, Extension Economist at Texas A&M University, points out that all items except food have increased 42 percent over the past 20 years and food, including eating away from home, has increased about 37 percent. Other increases that he points out are transportation up 60 percent, housing up 42 percent, rent up 52 percent, and medical care up 86 percent.

Dr. Black also points out that most of the increase in food costs have not gone to the farmer, in fact, for the most part he is getting less now than ever before. Marketing services have jumped by one-half because consumers want and are getting more sorting, grading, trimming, packaging, processing and storage, more built-in conveniences and they are eating more and more away from home.

He points out that our agricultural producers are striving to meet this price-cost squeeze by producing more at lower cost and are today the most efficient producers in the nation.

It should not come as any surprise to this area which is dependent on farm income that while consumers continue to be favored by increasing incomes, farm income lags. Despite higher food prices, consumers spend less of their incomes for food than any time in history and are getting the best, says the economist.

Mr. Black doesn't say so but part of this lower cost to the consumer is the so-called farm subsidies that seem to draw so much fire from the representatives in Congress from the big city areas. Without these subsidies it would be hard to guess what would happen to the food bill of the nation. After the large operations swallowed up all of the smaller ones it would be likely that the prices would go up.

Like everything else that the government gets involved in there is likely to be waste and mismanagement that should be cleaned up, but the basic idea of farm subsidies is important to our nation's economy—just as it is important that the government subsidizes our transportation industry and many other segments of our economy.

The oil industry is another part of our economy that is being browbeaten in Congress over its depreciation allowance—another form of subsidy. Here again the consumer benefits and so does the nation.

REFRESHMENT TIME AT CAMP KA-TA

RECEIVING INSTRUCTIONS FOR COOK OUT

Large Number of Girls Taking Part In Camp Fire Day Camp

Sixty-six persons participated in the Blue Bird and Camp Fire Girls Day Camp at Camp KA-TA near South Lake Tuesday, the second day of the one-week camp. Monday, the head count was 55. This number represents leaders, assistants, other workers and the girls.

The girls are in session from 8:45 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. each day through Friday. There are four classes being conducted. These are sports and games, science and nature, arts and crafts and outdoor activities.

The groups are divided into to grade levels and include those who complete the second through fifth grades this spring.

The girls had sack lunches on opening day and then each day one group prepares a cooked meal outdoors while the others have sack lunches. Each girl will have one cooking experience in the week.

The girls cleared the sites for the camp fires and placed brick to control the strong wind. A gallon can with vents and cut away openings is placed in the center of the bricks. The heat source is paraffin and corrugated cardboard in a small flat can which is placed under the larger can. Food is then cooked on the top of the larger can.

In arts and crafts, the girls are each making box purses. The boxes are covered with brown kraft paper in a basket weave pattern. The purses are then antiqued. Each girl paints the design she wishes on her purse. The final steps include the brass hinges and catches and the handle being put into place.

In sports and games Tuesday, the girls were enjoying walking on a huge cable spool. The round woodcove made a good surface for the girls to walk on causing the spool to roll forward as they walked.

Science sessions include the study of soil, seed germination, insects, electricity and chemistry. Four ant farms have been prepared and the girls observe these during the week.

A refreshment period is scheduled each morning and a rest period at noon is from 12 to 1:30 p.m.

The girls will finish up the week with a hot dog supper at the camp site with their parents as guests Friday at 7 p.m. At this time a ceremonial will be held and each girl will receive the beads earned during the week.

Workers, in addition to those announced last week, are Carla Adair, Leigh Ann Vaughan, Debbie Howard and Mrs. L. O. Hughes.

ROLLING PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

Stamford — Commodity Credit Corporation has under consideration new and higher service charges to be paid by producers for the preparation and handling of cotton loan papers. Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. is vigorously protesting this increase.

The new schedule of charges was sent recently to Don Anderson, chairman of the Beltwide Cotton Producers Committee, by George V. Hansen, Deputy Administrator for State and County operations in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Washington, D. C. RPOG, a charter member of Beltwide CPC, was immediately contacted for comment.

Hansen's letter stated "The CCC Board of Directors has determined a loan service charge will be collected which will result in collections approximating the actual loan making cost," and requested Anderson's views and comments on the new proposal.

The new fee system would call for a charge of $2 for loan documents containing from one to ten bales, $3 for those with 11 to 24 bales, plus $3 for each additional 24 bales or fraction thereof.

Producers under the new procedure would be required to pay these fees to CCC on all loan documents, even those initially prepared by CCC approved loan clerks outside county offices.

Fees in the past, charged only by "outside" loan clerks, have been: 1 bale, 25 cents; 1 to 6 bales, 25 cents plus 15 cents for each bale over 1; and 7 bales and over, $1 plus 10 cents for each bale over 6.

Under the new proposal, outside loan clerks would still be authorized to charge fees in accordance with the old schedule, but producers using them would still be required to pay the CCC charge set by the new schedule.

To avoid this double charge, virtually all producers would bring loan papers to the county office for preparation.

For Form G loans to cooperative associations of producers, the associations have been bearing the cost of preparing loan documents for their producers-members. In most cases the loans have been disbursed for CCC by banks under CCC agreements, with CCC paying the servicing agent banks a fee.

The new procedure would call for cooperative associations to reimburse CCC for 30 percent of the fee for the bank's service. CCC estimates that this percentage will cover CCC's cost of checking and making the loans.

Anderson is in Kampala, Uganda, Africa, serving as the cotton producer advisor of the official U. S. delegation to the International Cotton Advisory Committee meeting. In his absence, Donald Johnson of Plains Cotton Growers replied to Hansen's letter, strongly urging "that the proposal outlined in your letters NOT be put into effect."

He made six points in support of his contention that the proposed procedure would be unwise. He said "after discussing the proposal with various county ASCS office managers, farmers and other officers of the BCPC, I respectfully submit the following observations on behalf of our organization and the BCPC:

1. The total charge outlined in the schedule would be in addition to the fees now being paid by producers, ranging from a minimum of 12.5c per bale up to $2.00, and if producers choose to use a loan clerk outside the ASCS office, they would be paying twice for a single service. Consequently, virtually all loan documents probably would be prepared in county offices.

2. A tremendous new workload would be thrown into county offices, necessitating additional personnel, equipment and, in many instances, office space, if long delays are not to be experienced by producers in getting money for their crops. Some office managers in our larger cotton producing counties state that they could not efficiently supervise sufficient loan clerks in their offices to prevent substantial delays.

3. The additional people, equipment and space needed would occasion a significant outlay of government money, offsetting to a large degree or perhaps eliminating any economic advantages that might otherwise be gained.

4. Delays experienced by producers in exchanging their cotton for money would cost them added interest on production loans, probably amounting to far more than the service charge itself. On $5,000 worth of cotton (about 50 bales) a delay of only 15 days would cost the producer $16.66 (at 8%), or about 33 cents per bale.

"Add this amount, the interest cost on what some office managers estimate would be the minimum delay, to the minimum additional service charge, and the producer's additional outlay over previous years would be almost half as much as he is putting up for research and promotion through the CPI program and three times as much as he is paying on the Plains to support PCG.

"5. The added cost of putting cotton into the government loan, plus the probability of a costly delay in getting money for it, would be a considerable inducement for farmers to sell cotton into the market at or even below the loan price, creating more downward pressure on already depressed cotton prices.

"6. On the other hand, those who seek to buy equities on cotton that does go into the loan would find them more expensive as producers attempt to recover their higher cost."

Johnson's letter concluded: We recognize and appreciate the need for making government program paper work pay its own way wherever possible, and the BCPC and PCG would welcome the opportunity to work with you in devising a procedure that would as nearly as possible accomplish this purpose and yet prove less expensive to producers and less disruptive to your county offices."

Ray-Shave Wedding Vows Exchanged

Lakewood Baptist Church in Dallas was the scene for the Saturday evening wedding of Cheryl Rene Ray of Dallas and Frederick West Shave of Hamlin. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ray of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Shave of Hamlin.

Rev. Jeff Moore, pastor, officiated. Mrs. John Sewall was soloist and wedding music was by Stanley Royce, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional floor length gown of white silk organza. The simple A-line skirt was accented by the bateau neckline and brief short sleeves bearing lace medallions trimmed by seed pearls. The chapel length train fell from soft gathers at the back shoulder. Topping her dress was a chapel length silk illusion veil trimmed in matching lace appliques and caught to an organza headpiece of pearl trimmed flowers. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolus and yellow sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Barry Snowden of Nederland was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Almand of Waxahachie, Mrs. Ronald Laney of Seymour and Kay Barnhill of Dallas.

Attendants' dresses were floor length gowns of dacon ottoman with the maid of honor in yellow and the bridesmaids in aqua. A scoop neckline bodice was trimmed by set-in bell sleeves and a self bow at the center front which defined the slight high-rise waist. The bias draped skirt was accented by the back interest of three petite bows arrayed vertically from each neckline to back closing at the waist. The bridesmaids headpieces were formed by a spray of colored lilies-of-the-valley and long maline veiling.

Robert Huddleston of Lamasa was best man. Groomsmen were James Stevens of Borger, David Darnell of Waxahachie and Ronald Laney of Seymour.

Ushers were Norman Ray Jr., of Dallas, brother of the bride, Ronald Oglesby of Mineola and Stanley Poll of Dallas.

The reception followed at the church.

After a wedding trip to Nasseau Bay Resort, the couple will be at home in Dallas June 28.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School, Dallas. At Baylor University, Waco, she received a bachelor of arts degree and Patti Murphree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Murphree, is attending classes at Faye Neri Modeling Studio in San Antonio. A spring graduate of Hamlin High School, Patti will attend the University of Texas at Arlington in the fall. She is staying with an aunt, Mrs. Joe Post, during the four-week school.

FOR SUMMER '69—

Bridal Fashions Go Sentimental

When it comes to selecting your wedding dress, go ahead—be sentimental. The occasion demands it, and fashion favors it.

Designers of bridal fashions have risen to the occasion with summer collections that can only be described as dreamy, romantic, feminine, and frankly sentimental.

Gossamer cotton organdy and demure dotted swiss are the fabrics summer's dreamiest bridal gowns are made of. And they're daintily embellished with eyelet ruffles, cotton guipure lace, or white-on-white embroidery.

Most popular style is the fitted look... with a sculptured Empire bodice underscored by an embroidered inset or a high belt. Sleeves are long and circled with eyelet ruffles at the wrist, or short and puffed with embroidered cuffs. Skirts follow the A-line, flaring into sweeping chapel trains.

In addition, there are A-line organdy skimmers with jewel necklines and detachable trains. Some feature over-all floral embroidery, while others have contrasting embroidered yokes and sleeves.

While you can—and should —indulge in sentimentality when selecting that all-important wedding dress, add a dash of practicality as well. Decide in advance the type of wedding you're going to have and the style dress you want to wear. Then you'll be able to give the bridal consultant or sales clerk a clear idea of what you're looking for.

When you go to try on wedding dresses, be prepared. Wear or take with you the type shoes you plan to wear in the wedding as well as such under-pinnings as a waist cincher, girdle, etc. Arrange your hair the way you will on your wedding day, too, before trying on veils and head-dresses.

Choose your wedding gown first, then select a headpiece and attendants' dresses to go with it. Best procedure in picking bridesmaids' gowns is to select three or four styles in the color you prefer, and then let the bridesmaids try them on and make the final decision.

FROM THE FILES . . .

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
(June 20, 1924)

For two weeks to-date, the weather has been around the 100 mark. While on last Sunday the climax was reached with a temperature of 114 for awhile and then around 110 all day. Not much better on Monday and around 107 on Tuesday. Wednesday was cooler. Hot air from somewhere. Fortunately the earth had a fine supply of moisture. Nothing much but Indian Corn and very young cotton has suffered as yet. The heat is drying up the grass and causing the grasshoppers to seek the greener fields and therefore we have a greater damage from that source.

But for fear some one will think it is extremely hot in West Texas only, we shall tell you that the hot winds prevailed all over Texas, according to the best information.

A certain reader of the Herald has taken a special delight in the number of new modern farm homes that have been built this year around Hamlin. He makes the point that every new and modern farm home built is a mark of prosperity and permanency and a recommendation to the value of lands about this dandy good city. Among the number recently built include J. R. Bull, J. F. Tidwell, Bud Ferguson, Harris Feagan, R. A. Crockett and T. B. Middleton.

Add the name of one more farsighted youth to the roll of patriots, for the application of Vernon Pribble, for admittance to the Citizens' Military Training Camp to be held at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, during the month of August, was approved today by the commanding general.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(June 17, 1949)

A proposal for creating an annual celebration in Hamlin beginning with next year was made at the meeting of the Hamlin Planning Board Tuesday night, by Mrs. Tom Teague representative of the Garden Club.

A total of $215 was raised in Hamlin for the American Cancer Society drive for funds with which to conduct research, C. W. Gold, local chairman, said this week.

A campaign to raise funds with which to purchase markers for Hamlin's streets, and numbers of houses in the city, will begin as soon as necessary receipts can be printed.

Hamlin's City Council voted Tuesday to purchase a DDT spraying machine to be used on city streets and alleys in the battle against polio, according to Mayor Holly Toler.

The flood of wheat into Hamlin, which terminated abruptly last week with the coming of rains, got underway again Thursday and was in full flow Thursday as sunshine returned.

Damage to wheat fields throughout Hamlin's area was estimated variously at from 40 per cent to 70 per cent.

A thorough cleaning of the East Cemetery will be made by members of the Hamlin VFW Post 6014, it was voted at the weekly meeting Wednesday evening.

A new book, "Oil, Titan of the Southwest," from the pen of Dr. C. C. Rister, former McCaulley resident, was released last week.

Dr. Rister, son-in-law of Mrs. M. P. May of Hamlin, is a former school student at McCaulley, and later served as superintendent of the McCaulley school system.

TEN YEARS AGO
(June 18, 1959)

A Hamlin traditional institution passed into oblivion last week with the stoppage Thursday night of passenger trains 45 and 46 on the Santa Fe Railway through this Northwest Jones County metropolis.

Laying of the new two-inch water line from Hamlin to the Lakeview Country Club has been completed recently and is now in operation, according to Joe League, president of the club.

Mrs. June Elmore, wife of Don Elmore, was named Hamlin sponsor to the Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford next month by the Board of Community Development.

Dr. E. J. Hawkins, head of the staff at Hamlin Memorial Hospital and charter member of the Hamlin Riding Club, was elected president of the club at the annual business session of the group held Friday evening. He succeeds W. C. (Bill) Adair.

Mrs. E. M. Wilson was a delegate from the Hamlin Business and Professional Women's Club to the state convention of B & PW Clubs meeting at Tyler last weekend.

Peggy Dodd and Patricia Bigham, Hamlin High School juniors the past year, are in Austin this week attending sessions of the Bluebonnet Girls' State now in progress at the Texas School for the Blind.

R. L. McClung, manager of the Midwest Cooperative Oil Mill at Hamlin, was in Houston last week attending the annual convention of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association.

"Whatsoever Things"

(A reader writes of Mr. Wildmon's book THOUGHTS WORTH THINKING, " . . . excellent contribution to worthwhile literature." For your copy, send $2.95 to Five Star Publishers, Box 1368, Tupelo, Miss. 38801)

I'm a prude. I will admit it. I'm a prude. And I use the word not in the sense of it's meaning in the dictionary, but in the method which it has found itself used in today's slang language. In that language, you know, a prude is something old-fashioned, less than a modern he-man. But, like I said, I'm a prude.

I'm a prude because I still believe in honesty. I don't believe in cheating or lying to my fellow man. When I charge a bill, tell a man I will pay that bill, I believe I should pay it. It may, under trying circumstances, be in small installments but if I live long enough, I will get it paid. I have given him my word and he has accepted it as the truth. He has put his trust in me and I cannot let him down.

I'm a prude because I still believe in kindness. I still think you should be kind to your fellowman instead of hard and harsh and rough. A kind word, a small gesture of kindness, a little gift can build lasting friendships.

I'm a prude because I believe in helping. I realize it is impossible for me to help everyone in the world and I'm not responsible for the whole world. I'm only responsible for the little corner I live in. I realize my inability to be all things to all men, but I do believe I can be something to some men.

I'm a prude because I believe in decency. I can see nothing good coming from speech that is dirty and filled with profanity. Some of the words, and their implications, in some of the songs on today's market turn my stomach. Some of the trash which passes for "art" on the screen of today would make Sodom and Gomorrah look like a fairylane.

I'm a prude because I don't drink. They tell us that 65% indulge in it now. Maybe that's what they want us to believe, maybe that is the correct figure. It doesn't bother me if 99 and 44 100% do it, to me it is wrong. And I hate the whole stinking mess when I pick up my paper and see the number of innocent who suffer and die because of drink. We scream when a few innocent people die in war, and will not speak a word when thousands die because of drink on our highways.

I'm a prude because I believe in America. Despite all of it's faults, it is, to me, still the greatest country this world has ever known. I believe I owe my country more than my country owes me. I believe I don't have the right to criticize it unless I also try to make it better.

I'm a prude because I still believe in God. And to make me more of a prude, I still believe in a good God. I believe He is like a father, and that He loves us, wants the best for us, and hurts when we shun Him and His way. I believe we will never achieve what we long for the most apart from Him.

I told you before I began that I was a prude. Now you know why. But you know what? I'm a prude with pride!

REACHING NEW Heights

Man has explored most of the earth, and has now set out to conquer space.

While achieving these marvelous works, let us not forget our creator.

"When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained; what is man that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him? For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour. Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet . . ."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Both are graduates of Richardson High School and plan to attend Harding College in Searcy, Ark., this fall.

Tax payers in the Old Glory Rural High School District were notified by letter last week of an increase in the assessed valuation of property in the district. School officials have indicated there will be a substantial decrease in the tax rate for this year.

This will be the first time in a number of years that the Old Glory District will be assessing its own taxes. The law requires that taxes for a rural high school district be collected by the county tax collector.

Several years ago patrons in the district voted to raise the rate from $1.50 to $2.00. ($1.50 for Local Maintenance and 50c for Interest and Sinking) in order to finish paying for the 1956 Building Bonds. The final payment on these bonds will be due in 1971. After this payment has been made the $1.50 for Local Maintenance will once again be the tax rate limit according to school officials. The letter also indicated that the Board of Equalization for the district will meet June 30, 1969, from 8:00 a.m. to 12 noon.

Shortly before school closed this last term a new station wagon was purchased for the Old Glory School. Members of the graduating class used the new car for their senior trip to Colorado. When they returned as an act of appreciation the class made a $450 payment out of their class funds on the station wagon.

Brian Letz of Graham spent several days here last week visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Letz.

Tempa Wofford has returned home after spending two weeks in Friona with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burrow. Mr. and Mrs. Purrow brought her home last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Delos Callicotte visited their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Callicotte, Guy and Jill, in Midland last weekend.

Dr. E. K. Gibson Jr. To Do Research At Space Center

Dr. Everett K. Gibson Jr. will begin a postdoctoral research associateship at the lunar and earth sciences division of the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston at the end of this month.

He completed requirements for the doctor of philosophy degree in geochemistry at Arizona State University in Tempe May 13.

Dr. Gibson was born at Seagraves. He graduated from high school at Hamlin in 1958. He received a bachelor of science degree in chemistry from Texas Technological College at Lubbock in 1963.

After receiving the B. S. degree, he continued studying chemistry at Texas Tech and earned the masters of science degree in 1965. He was appointed to a position as a graduate teaching assistant in chemistry at ASU in 1965.

Before reporting to Houston, Dr. Gibson will lead a party of 69 people on a Colorado River boat excursion through the Grand Canyon. The party will film a 30-minute moving picture of the trip for Time-Life Magazines. The trip is planned to commemorate the centennial of the first river passage by John Wesley Powell.

Dr. Gibson is a member of numerous professional societies. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett K. Gibson Sr., live in Hamlin.

Neinda Philosopher Says the Problem of the Big Cities Has Wrecked the Farm Problem

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One this week is worrying about the big cities, but not enough to lose any sleep over.

Dear editor:

According to a newspaper I was reading last night, 90 per cent of the big cities in the United States are just about broke, facing bankruptcy, the article said, although I've never heard of anybody's foreclosing on a city. Who'd want to take New York in on a debt? Or Chicago? Or Dallas?

As I understand it, it's the cities, not the city people, who are broke, as most of the lat-

Agent Urges Early Season Insecticide Application Here

One or two early season insecticide applications for control of overwintered boll weevils and other early season insects should pay good dividends again this year in the heavy boll weevil areas, according to County Agent Kirby Clayton.

Records kept in the agent's office over a five year period show that one to two applications for early season control has resulted in a 25-30 percent increase in yield and also a better grade.

Clayton recommends one application of a mild insecticide when the cotton is 5 to 5½ weeks of age or before squares are 1/3 grown and possible another application 7-10 days later. The second application, says Clayton, will depend upon the date cotton was planted and the degree of infestation and available hibernating areas for the boll weevil. Cotton planted on May 20th might require two applications, whereas cotton planted around June 5-10 would require only one. The agent cautions against making early season applications too late in the season and suggests that this practice is likely to bring on a bollworm buildup, which would be most difficult to control.

For further information on early season insect control contact your county agent.

ter seem to be doing fairly well, although occasionally some of them have to borrow on their boat to meet the payments on their color television set, and some get confused trying to remember whether they're paying for last year's or the year before last's vacation trip, both of which they took on credit.

However, the cities' plight is not a laughing matter, because it has just about wrecked the farm problem.

Back in the old days, 15 or 20 years ago, no politician would think of running for office unless he had a solution for the farm problem, and while none of the solutions ever worked, I had no idea what they meant was they were going to make the city problem so big everybody would forget the farm problem.

It's like stopping worrying about one son who dropped out of high school because another son is now in the penitentiary.

Personally, I don't have any answers. It used to be, when a man couldn't make it on the farm he was advised to give it up and get a job in town. You suppose they did and are now running cities by the same principles that failed them on the farm?

I hope not, because the last thing we want is somebody's advising big city mayors that if they can't make it in town they'd better give it up and get a job in the country.

As it is, most of them are saying they've got to look to Washington to help them get out of debt. I'm afraid they're on the wrong track. Washington is an expert on getting into debt, but as for getting out . . . I'm blamed if I know where they should look. Certainly not at me. Did I notice you dodging too?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THANK YOU . . .
